November 18. 1721.

its Placard against bringing this Country, and Goods from Cyprus.

SHIPS coming from the Island of Cyprus, or having touched there, are prohibited Entrance into this Country, under Penalty of being burnt with their whole Cargo.

Goods coming from that Place, or that were brought thither, shall likewise not be imported into this Country, under the same Penalty of being burnt, or destroyed: And Persons who shall have brought into this Country such Ships or Merchandize, or that have given any Orders for their Importation, or have had the least Knowledge concerning them, shall be punished with Death.

Goods Unknown.

Such Merchandize as shall be marked for Unknown in the Declarations of the Captains, Watermen, or Land-Carriers, shall be placed in the Number of those suspected; and the same Measures are to be observed with respect to them as are directed with regard to suspected Levant Goods, and under the like Penalties.

Ships coming from every other Place.

Moreover, all Captains coming from what Place soever, besides those already specified, shall be obliged as soon as they arrive to give in to the first Guard-Ship, an exact and particular List of all their Cargoes, expressing the Marks and Numbers, without omitting any of what Nature soever; and this List must be signed by them, with an Offer to confirm it by Oath, which Offer shall be regarded as though the said Oath were really executed: The whole under Penalty of Confiscation of the Ships, and Arbitrary Punishment to be inflicted on the Captains, in case they have omitted, or deceitfully declared any of the Merchandize; which Arbitrary Punishment may be extended to Death, according to the Exigency of the Case.

Prohibition of Rags, old Cloaths, and Furniture.

No Person shall bring into this Country, whether by Sea or Land, any Rags, old Cloaths, decayed Furniture, or Houshold-Stuffs, from what Place soever, under Penalty of such Rags, old Cloaths, decayed Furniture, or Houshold-Stuffs, to be burnt, the Ships and Carriages confiscated, and the Transgressours punished with Death.

Surety for the Crews and Passengers.

The Captains and Carriers are to be answerable for their Crews and Passengers, with respect to every thing above-mentioned.

Foreigners to be treated like Subjects.

All the Orders, Precautions, and Penalties established by this Placard, relate likewise to the Ships and Subjects of all foreign Nations, and both shall be treated on the same foot as are the Ships and Subjects of this Country.

Goods of Italy, coming from other Places.

It shall not be allowed to bring into this Country Goods of Italy, whether by Land, upon the Rivers, or by Sea, in Ships coming from other Places than Italy, unless Certificates are produced, confirmed by Oath, in which it shall be made clearly to appear from whence the said Goods come, and where they touched, and that they did not touch in any manner, at any Places infected, or suspected of the Contation, and that have not been infected during the last two Years.

Disposal of Forfeitures.

All the Forfeitures by Penalties above specified and decreed, shall be disposed of, one Third to the Officer who shall make the Seizure; one Third to the Commissary-General residing at the Place where the Case happens; and one Third to the Informer.

For Six Months.

This present Placard is to take place and be executed provisionally during the Space of six Months, reckoning from the Day of its Publication, which shall every where be the same; unless it shall be prolonged by a new Publication.

And that no Person may pretend Cause of Ignorance, these Presents shall be read, published, and set up in all customary and convenient Places. Done at the Hague, the 11th of November 1721.

Signed, F. Fagel, &c.

St. Saveur, Nov. 2. 'The Village of Lasfons near Mende, has been infected for some Days past, three Persons have died there in one House; the rest of the Family are sent into Barracks, and the Inhabitants are commanded not to stir out of their Territory, upon Pain of Death. Twelve Persons died Yesterday at Mende, and to Day 6: Bonnasac and Monferrand continue bad; some die every Day in Marvejols; nevertheless 'tis believed the Contagion is near its End in the latter.

Villeneuve d'Avignon, Nov. 6. 'It is reported, that some of the Bearers of the Dead, who lately escaped out of Avignon, have been taken and shot; one at Pierrelat, and another Yesterday at Avignon, having been taken at St. Saturnin. The Contagion has not been violent for several Days past, and very few die there at present. Some of the Bearers and Interrers of the Dead have been shot to Death, for the Robberies they committed almost where-ever they came. There remain but six sick Persons in the Infirmaries at Orange, and 10 or 12 who are recovering. It is said that the Plague has not carried off above 53 Persons in that City, since its first Infection, including 12 Bearers; but four Soldiers are fallen sick belonging to the Company of 100 lately raised, which occasions new Fears for the City, they having communicated with their Comrades.

Helstone, Nov. 13. The Royal Anne Galley was cast away on the Lizzard last Thursday Night, and all her Crew drown'd except two Men and a Boy. All the Effects are lost, and dead Men are cast a-shore daily, some in one Place, and some in others, as far Westward as Porleaven. The Country People run daily to catch what they can find, and if a Man with Money, or other Things of Value about him, drive a-shore, they bury him, if not, they let him drive with the Tide.

Plymouth, Nov. 14. Yesterday came in His Majesty's Ship Lyme from Fowey.

Liverpool, Nov. 14. Since the 10th arrived the Neptune from St. Christopher's; and the Elizabeth from Jamaica.

Bristol, Nov. 15. Yesterday arrived here the Commerce from Virginia; Samuel and Mary from Denis; and the Sarah Sloop from Antegoa.

Deal, Nov. 16. His Majesty's Ship Kingston, and all the outward bound, are put back by contrary Winds. Arrived the Duke of Gloucester from Antegoa, and the Bourdeaux Factor from Morlaix.
